

OSHIBA, RYO

Professor of International Relations

Dean, Graduate School of Law, Hitotsubashi University

Field of Study: International Relations and International Organizations

Academic Experiences:

- 2006-2008 Dean, School of International and Public Policy, Hitotsubashi University
- 1994 Professor, Faculty of Law, Hitotsubashi University
- 1993 Visiting Fellow, Center for International Studies, Princeton University
- 1991-93 Visiting Scholar, St. Antony's College, Oxford University
- 1987 Associate Professor, Faculty of Law, Hitotsubashi University
- 1983 Lecturer, Faculty of Law, Sophia University
-

Academic Background:

- 1989 Ph.D. (Yale University, Political Science)
- 1978 M.A. (Graduate School of Law, Hitotsubashi University)
- 1976 B.. A. (Department of Law, Hitotsubashi University)

Publications:

- Political Economy of International Organizations (author 1994, Yuhikaku, in Japanese)
- Introduction to International Political Economy (co-author, 1996, Yuhikaku, in Japanese)
- "We the People" in the Global Age: A Re-examination of Nationalism and Citizenship (co-edited with Edward Rhodes and Chieko Kitagawa Otsuru, 2000, in English)
- "Globalization and Education Japan: The Case of Junior High School History Textbooks" in Jim Dator, Dick Praff and Yongseok Seo eds., Globalization, Fairness, and Public Institutions, University of Hawaii Press, April 2006.

- Pearl Harbour as Memory (co-editor with Chihiro Hosoya and Akira Iriye, 2004, Minerva, in Japanese).
- Japan and the United Nations since 1956 (co-editor with Yasushi Akashi et al., 2008, Minerva, in Japanese).
- “Euro-globalism” (to be published in Jonathan Lewis ed., Conflict and Reconciliation in Europe, Tokyo: United Nations University Press, 2010, in English.)